What Is a CAS Project?

A CAS (Creativity, Activity, Service) project is a key part of the International Baccalaureate (IB) program. It encourages students to get involved in activities that go beyond regular schoolwork.

The CAS project includes three main areas: creativity (arts, music, or design), activity (sports, physical challenges), and service (helping others in the community). Students must take part in activities that fall under these categories to develop new skills, explore their interests, and make a positive impact.

Important Facts About CAS Projects

1. Balance is Key: CAS projects are designed to offer a well-rounded experience. Students must focus on creativity, physical activity, and service to make sure all areas are covered.
2. Personal Growth: The goal of CAS is to help students grow as individuals. It allows them to explore new interests, face challenges, and learn life skills like teamwork, leadership, and time management.
3. Reflection is Essential: Students must regularly reflect on their experiences during the project. This helps them understand how the activities affect their growth and what they've learned.
4. Real Impact: CAS encourages students to contribute to their communities. Many projects focus on helping others, whether through volunteering, fundraising, or organizing events.
5. IB Requirements: CAS is a graduation requirement for IB students. It helps them meet the broader goals of the program, like developing as well-rounded individuals ready for future challenges.

How to Choose a CAS Project?

Choosing the right CAS project is an important part of your experience. Here are some steps to help you choose the perfect one:

1. Know Your Interests: Think about what excites you. Is there something creative, physical, or service-based that you're passionate about? Choose a project that you will enjoy and that will motivate you.
2. Balance the Three Areas: Remember, your CAS project needs to cover three areas: Creativity, Activity, and Service. Make sure your project includes at least one activity from each category to keep it balanced.
3. Set Personal Goals: Think about what you want to achieve. Do you want to learn a new skill, help others, or challenge yourself physically? Having clear goals will help guide your project.

4. Consider the Impact: Choose a project that has the potential to make a positive impact. Whether it's helping your community or learning something new, your project should aim to create change.
5. Check the Time Commitment: Ensure the project fits within your schedule. It should challenge you but not overwhelm you. Choose something that you can commit to and manage with your other responsibilities.

How to Make Your CAS Project Successful

Making your CAS project successful takes planning and effort. Here are some tips to help you succeed:

1. Plan Ahead: Start by setting clear goals for your project. Break it down into small, manageable steps and create a timeline to keep you on track.
2. Get Support: Talk to teachers, mentors, or community leaders for advice or guidance. They can offer valuable insights and help you stay motivated.
3. Stay Committed: Stick with your project, even if challenges arise. Consistency is key to making progress and seeing results.
4. Reflect Regularly: Reflect on your experiences throughout the project. Write down your thoughts, feelings, and lessons learned. This helps you understand your growth and stay focused on your goals.
5. Work Well with Others: If your project involves teamwork, make sure to communicate and collaborate effectively. Successful teamwork is key to making an impact.
6. Focus on the Outcome: At the end of your project, evaluate how well you achieved your goals. Think about what went well and what you can improve for the future.

What are some interesting CAS project ideas?

Here are some creative and interesting ideas for your CAS project:

1. Organize a Charity Event: Plan and run an event to raise money for a cause you care about, such as a charity run, bake sale, or auction.
2. Create a Community Garden: Start a community garden project that encourages environmental sustainability and community participation.
3. Learn a New Skill or Art: Take a course in a creative field (like photography, painting, or music) and use your skills to teach others.

5. Volunteer at Animal Shelters: Spend time helping animals at a shelter, learning about animal welfare and contributing to the cause.
6. Start a Blog or YouTube Channel: Share your thoughts, experiences, or expertise on a topic you're passionate about, such as books, fitness, or technology.
7. Mentor Younger Students: Offer tutoring or mentorship to younger students in subjects you excel in.

8. Environmental Awareness Campaign: Lead a project that raises awareness about sustainability, such as reducing waste or promoting eco-friendly habits.
9. Organize Cultural Events: Celebrate diversity by organizing cultural festivals, performances, or exhibitions to bring people together.

What counts as a CAS project?

A CAS project should meet these three criteria:

- Creativity: Involves activities like music, art, drama, or other forms of creative expression.
- Activity: Focuses on physical activity like sports, exercise, or adventure challenges.
- Service: Involves helping others, like volunteering, community service, or charity work.

Each project must involve planning, personal development, and reflection. It should also be meaningful and give you a chance to learn new things or contribute to your community.

Can MUN be a CAS project?

Yes, Model United Nations (MUN) can count as a CAS project, particularly under the Creativity and Service categories. MUN helps you develop public speaking, leadership, and teamwork skills, which fit well within the CAS framework.

Additionally, organizing and participating in MUN events can help you contribute to your school or community by promoting global awareness and diplomacy.

Does Harvard care about MUN?

Harvard, like many top universities, values Model United Nations (MUN) experience because it demonstrates strong communication, leadership, and critical thinking skills. While MUN is not a requirement for admission, being involved in MUN shows that you are engaged in global issues, have leadership potential, and are capable of working in teams—qualities that are attractive to admissions officers.

How many CAS hours for IB?

For the IB program, students are required to complete a total of 150 hours of CAS activities. This includes:

- Creativity: Around 50 hours.
- Activity: Around 50 hours.
- Service: Around 50 hours.

What Counts As Service For Cas?

For CAS, service refers to activities where you help others and make a positive impact on the community. Here are some examples of what counts as service:

- Volunteering at a local charity: Helping out in shelters, food banks, or community centres.
- Tutoring: Assisting others with academic subjects or skills.
- Environmental projects: Organizing clean-ups, tree-planting campaigns, or sustainability initiatives.
- Fundraising for a cause: Raising money for charities or community projects.
- Helping the elderly or disabled: Spending time or assisting people in need, like running errands or offering companionship.
- Working with youth groups: Mentoring or leading activities for children or teenagers.

The key is that the activity should benefit others, and you should reflect on how it helps your personal growth and development.

Does Mun Look Good On A Resume?

Yes, Model United Nations (MUN) looks great on a resume. It shows potential employers or universities that you have:

- Leadership skills: You often take on leadership roles in MUN conferences.
- Public speaking and communication abilities: MUN involves debating, presenting, and negotiating.
- Critical thinking: You analyze global issues and propose solutions.
- Teamwork and diplomacy: MUN fosters collaboration with others from different backgrounds.
