2. Short Curing Time: Epoxy resin generally has a shorter curing time compared to other types of resin, making the process quicker and more manageable.
3. Low Odor: It tends to have a less strong odor compared to polyester resin, which is great for indoor crafting.
4. Workable Time: Epoxy resin has a longer working time (pot life), giving you more time to pour, mix, and manipulate the resin before it starts to harden.

5. Easy Mixing: Epoxy resin is typically mixed in a 1:1 ratio of resin and hardener, making it simple to measure and mix.

How to Start Resin Art for Beginners?

If you're new to resin art, follow these simple steps to get started:

1. Gather Supplies: You'll need epoxy resin, hardener, mixing cups, stirring sticks, gloves, a heat gun (to remove bubbles), and molds or surfaces to pour on.
2. Choose a Workspace: Work in a clean, dust-free environment with good ventilation, as resin can release fumes while curing.
3. Mix the Resin: Follow the manufacturer's instructions to mix the resin and hardener in the correct ratio. Stir slowly and thoroughly to avoid air bubbles.
4. Add Color: You can add pigments, dyes, glitter, or other elements to the resin to create unique effects.
5. Pour the Resin: Pour the resin into molds or onto surfaces like trays, coasters, or canvases. Spread it out gently with a spatula or stick if needed.
6. Remove Air Bubbles: Use a heat gun or torch briefly over the surface to pop any air bubbles trapped in the resin.
7. Let It Cure: Allow the resin to cure in a dust-free area for the recommended time (usually 24–48 hours).
8. Finish and Sand: Once cured, you can sand the edges and add any finishing touches, like varnishing or sealing the surface.
