3D Hologram Constellation

Materials: Clear plastic or acrylic sheet, smartphone, tape, and a projector app.

How to Make: Cut a piece of acrylic or clear plastic to the desired size. Print out or project your constellation onto the plastic sheet. Use a smartphone to project the constellation image onto the surface, giving it a 3D look as the hologram effect is enhanced.

Constellation-in-a-Jar (3D Model)

Materials: Glass jar, small battery-powered lights, black paint, and glue.

How to Make: Paint the inside of the jar black. Add small LED lights inside to represent the stars of your constellation. Seal the jar and shake it lightly so the lights are spread evenly. The final product will be a glowing 3D constellation model.

3D Constellation Project Ideas (Easy)

Styrofoam Constellation with Pins

Materials: Styrofoam ball, pins, black marker, and string.

How to Make: Draw your constellation's pattern on the Styrofoam ball. Use pins to mark the stars along the pattern and then connect the pins with string to show how the stars align. This method is inexpensive and easy to create!

3D Paper Constellations

Materials: Black construction paper, scissors, star-shaped cut-outs, glue, and white string.

How to Make: Cut out a constellation shape from black construction paper and attach it to a piece of sturdy card. Then, glue white string in the shape of the constellation, placing the star shapes along the string. The 3D effect is created by raising the star cut-outs on small pieces of foam or cardboard.
